

November Reflection #2

1. As you've completed the October and November tasks, what tools or aspects of the process have you found helpful and meaningful to your learning?

2. What has been less effective in helping you get started in your study?

3. Now that you've completed the rationale, and developed your criteria for success, please rate how you're feeling about your topic?

I want to change topics.

I'm having second thoughts.

My feelings haven't changed.

I'm intrigued to learn more.

I'm thrilled and can't wait to continue!

4. How has the workload been? Has your group been able to accomplish the tasks within the group meeting times?
